

CODE OF ETHICS

Dear Colleagues,

Over the last 80 years, we have built one of Brazil's largest corporate business groups. We have always observed ethics and transparency in targeting our achievements, treating our internal and external stakeholders with integrity and respect, and contributing to the growth and wellbeing of our communities. Therefore, we can be proud of our past and optimistic about the future.

To maintain our credibility and our good name, we must be constantly evolving and we must always ensure that we comply with the law and with the Company's policies and regulations.

This new edition of our Code of Ethics reasserts our confidence that our staff, partners, suppliers and contractors will make the right decisions when faced with the ethical dilemmas that can arise in our work. Here you will find rules and guidelines to help you choose the best path to follow. Our Open Channel is always available to clear up any doubts and to receive your suggestions or comments.

I am grateful to you for helping to build Ultra's future. I am counting on you to ensure that our Company's daily activities and attitudes are based on sound moral principles.

Frederico Fleury Curado

ETHICS IN MANAGEMENT

Ultra is a multibusiness company committed to operating efficiently, effectively and using the best management practices.

Ultra implements these commitments through a management approach focused on ethics, with constant attention to its social impact, to human rights, and to the environment.

Among the principles that guide our conduct, we highlight the following:

EQUALITY, TRANSPARENCY, AND RESPONSIBILITY

Equality, transparency and responsibility are mandatory duties inherent to our organization. Compliance with these values allows us to increase the autonomy provided to our employees and the trust placed in the organization. Accordingly, it creates a more favorable environment for us to conduct our businesses and projects. Consistent with these values:

- We treat stakeholders, clients, counterparties and third parties in a fair and equitable manner. Ultra forbids any discrimination or favoritism of any person or legal entity.
- We adopt procedures to ensure that all stakeholders, clients, counterparties and third parties are informed about the relevant aspects of our activities, making sure that our communications and information provided are true, clear, adequate and appropriate.
- We are cognizant about the consequences of our actions, weighting the effects that our actions may cause on external representatives and on ourselves before we take them.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS

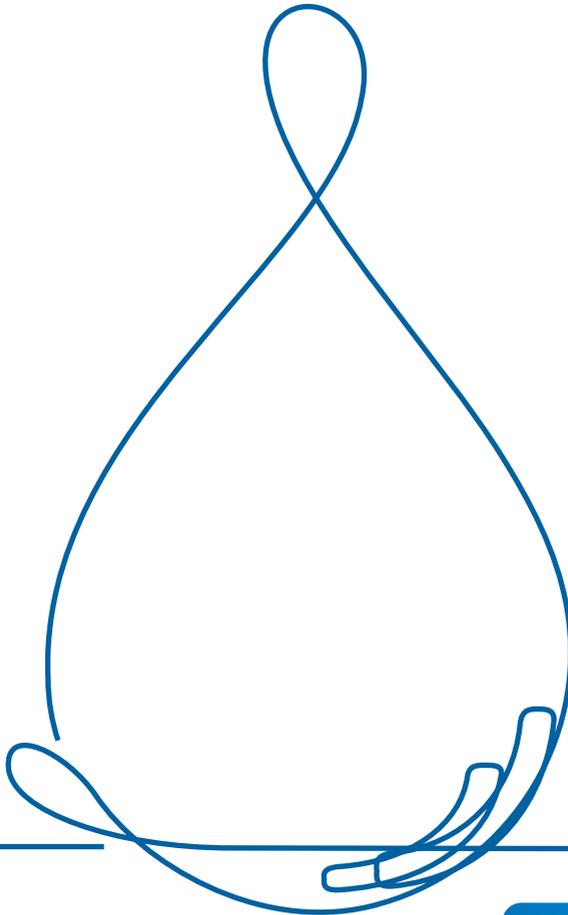

We comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable to our business, because we are aware that they are the basis for an equitable and prosperous society. That is why:

- We follow the Corporate Policy on Anti-Corruption and Relationships with Public Officials, which provides guidelines for preventing and combating corruption, and which must be observed in connection with all of our interactions with Public Officials (either domestic or international), other companies, and any other parties in order to ensure the integrity and transparency of Ultra's business. We are committed to conducting our business without engaging in any corrupt practices or seeking improper advantages, and have zero tolerance for bribery.
- We follow the Competitive Corporate Policy, the fundamental objective of which is to protect and promote competition and free enterprise for the benefit of consumers in accordance with antitrust and competition laws. These laws reflect the belief that in a marketplace characterized by honest, open and vigorous competition the most innovative and efficient firms will thrive, scarce resources will be allocated to their most valued uses, and consumers will have the best products available at the lowest prices. Our Company has a strong reputation as a vigorous and fair competitor. We are committed to the fundamental public policy goals of these laws. It is Ultra's policy to observe both the letter and the spirit of the antitrust laws and the competition laws of the countries in which we do business.
- We follow risk management procedures and internal control procedures, including financial and accounting procedures, audit, information security and anti-corruption and competition controls, which are designed to monitor our compliance with the Code and our Corporate Policies and to prevent illegal, criminal or immoral acts (such as corruption, bribery, fraud, influence peddling, providing inappropriate favors, money laundering or other financial crimes, and discrimination or harrassment).

- We follow our internal ethical principles as well as the principles of the business and professional associations to which we are affiliated.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

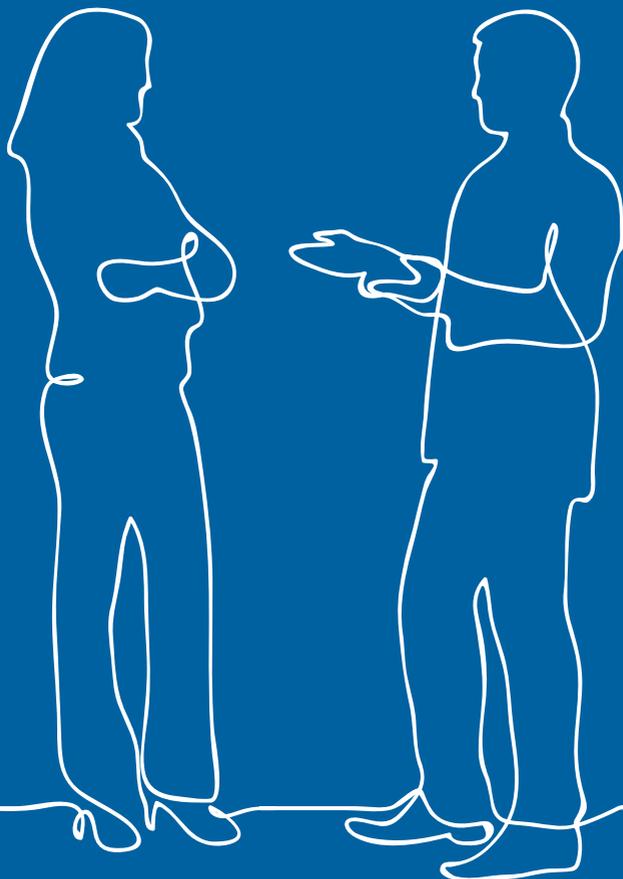

We conduct our businesses with responsibility, integrity and care, aiming to ensure Ultra's sustainability and longevity. We always follow this guideline consistent with the rules of social development and environmental preservation.

These laws and the Competitive Corporate Policy promote fair competition. The Competitive Corporate Policy identifies practices which could violate the antitrust laws or competition laws and gives advice to enable Ultra to comply with these laws and continue to vigorously compete. It is not intended to equip you to act as your own legal counsel, but it will help you to recognize when you need to seek the advice of our Legal Department.
- It is the responsibility of each employee of Ultra to ensure the business of Ultra is conducted in accordance with the Competitive Corporate Policy, antitrust laws, and competition laws. If, at any time, an employee believes Ultra is not acting pursuant to these, it is the duty of that employee to raise such concerns with the Ultra's Legal Department or Canal Aberto (Open Channel).
- All business of Ultra must be conducted in accordance with the antitrust laws and competition laws. This means, for example, Ultra does not participate in any form of a "cartel." This includes, but is not limited to, agreeing with competitors to fix prices, allocate customers, allocate geographic markets, limited supply, refuse to deal, or otherwise harm competition or consumers. Ultra must also act in accordance with the antitrust laws and competition laws in its dealings with customers.
- Failure to conduct business pursuant to the antitrust laws and competition laws can cause significant economic and reputational harm to Ultra. In some countries, employees may also face personal liability, which can include criminal prosecution.
